RALLYING CALL FOR THE 48%

“Now we're the insurgents ...

We have to mobilise and organise, or we face the risk of the worst of all worlds – permanent loss of income, a poorer country. We must provide answers on immigration, public services, globalisation, stagnating wages, housing shortages... But we must not concede to the anger. We must pacify it with real solutions – not fake fantasies. If we don't the anger will not disappear. It will metastasize. The stakes are high. They are high all over Europe. Brexit has always meant more than just Brexit. But we're a sovereign people – we can make up our mind and we can change our mind. ”
